

QA Technology is pleased to offer a new 125mil test probe.

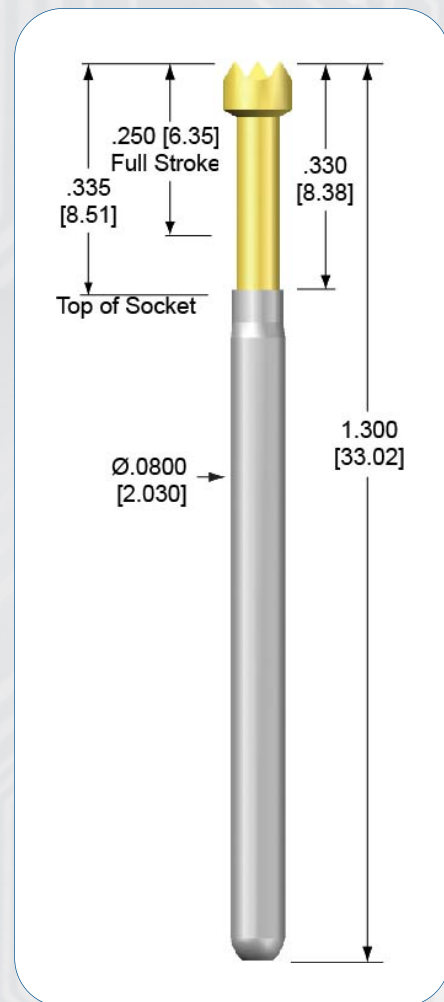

As a lower cost alternative, we have added a nickel silver (N) probe tube option to our .125" [3.17mm] center, .250" [6.35mm] stroke, 125-25 probe series. This probe tube is best suitable in test applications where higher resistance across the life of the probe is acceptable.

This nickel silver probe tube can be combined with any of our standard tip style or spring force offerings in our 125-25 Series. For complete product details, please visit 125-25 Series
